To Whom it may Concern:

I have known FF Lazor for about 1 year. We met through a mutual friend in Sept. 1982. In the short time I have known FF I've considered him a person with high values, a person that involves himself in the community in a productive way, by donating his time and talents to charity. He is also a person concerned about other people.

I've always admired him for his dependability and honesty.

It is inconceivable FF could be found guilty for such a horrendous crime of 2nd degree murder. I believe anyone who knows FF will agree he is not a man of violence but rather a man of peace. And to punish him so severely would serve no purpose to society and would destroy a productive human spirit.

I believe FF Lazor has already paid dearly for this tragic incident.

Sincerely
