

A LITTLE LESS FAT THAN THAT

6-15-14
(#62)

HOOK/REFRAIN:      He's a little less fat than that He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that.

1. But a little less fat than what ?
A little less fat than what ?
In the belly ? In the thigh ? In the butt ?
You need to tell us who, why, where, or what
In the face ? Out of place ? In the gut ?
You need to explain "that" — what ?!
That he's a little less fat than that,
a little less fat than that !

(I done told ya): *

2. He's a little less fat than that !
Some say he's a pretty strange cat,
every now and then he still tips his hat
when he doesn't even know where it's at.
Some proclaim it's a shame he's as looney as a bat
but he smiles all the same, and proceeds to claim his name Tha-at-a-tat-tat, or for short, just "That."

And he's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
He's a little less fat than that
And he'll tell 'em it's a snare to compare this with That when they don't understand it's his name, man, oh, man !

[REPEAT HOOK/REFRAIN]

[INSTRUMENTAL]

[REPEAT HOOK/REFRAIN AND FIRST VERSE]

3. There's a way we can solve this mystery by giving you a little piece of history
I know a guy from the Babble-Blarney bowry who's tryin' to lose some weight as part of his dowry.
His odd name is That-a-tat-tat
so, for short, they just call him "That."

(Continued)

A LITTLE LESS FAT THAN THAT
(Continued)

(6-15-14)
(#62)

4. So when this other guy comes struttin' up the walk way, we were tryin' to compare, what, with, why, who, how, and where,
and with his belly sucked in, that's where we begin'
And — by the way — I heard `em say his name is Matt, so it's Matt who's a little less fat than That.

(Do ya all get it now ?)*

[REPEAT HOOK; INTERSPERSE FIRST FEW LINES
FROM FIRST VERSE, AND FADE OUT]

[END]

Written: June 15, 2014

* Words in parentheses are spoken