

BOUND FOR LIFE

6-26-93
(#10)

[Arpeggio intro: Gb-G-A]

1. Oh, I will trust in you, YHWH,
to protect me by our Word;
I know your Word is the Spirit's sword,
by your shield of faith I've endured.
I am your servant bound for life
I know you'll lead and carry me home
over the jagged crags of strife,
I am yours now, I'm not my own.

REFRAIN: I am bound for life,
I am your servant bound for life.
I didn't come here by some chance,
you've made me a miracle for your pleasure.
I am bound to you,
born a servant to my King;
to you I owe me everything
— worship of you is my treasure.

2. Oh, I will follow You where You lead,
I have put away my foolish toys,
from the beginning You planted the seed
to guide me through sufferings to reach your joys.
For it was You who gave this gift to me,
all the treasures of life I've known;
it has been often hard, but hearty
and you've not abandoned me alone.

[REPEAT REFRAIN]

3. You've shown me peace that cuts through suffering,
the only light at the end of the maze.
How life can crush the strongest men to nothing,
how You rebuild the one who obeys.
I have a joy the world cannot know
as they grope in the dark stumbling blind;
you've harnessed my heart, I'll never let go of life's most precious, greatest find.

[REPEAT REFRAIN]

4. * You are the hope, the Rock, the fountain,
the men of ancient days passed on.
The light, the truth, the Way, our Mountain,
our Creator, all - Sovereign One.
Da, da, da, da, da, da, da, da . . .

Written: June 26, 1993

* This verse is spoken, not sung, until da, da, da, . . .
