

DISPOSABLE WORLD

8-31-15
(#67)

HOOK(1): Because we live in a disposable, disposable world —
Because we live in a disposable world.

HIT SONG

1. It doesn't matter what you don't believe in — or what you do;
reality with all its might and fury will still find you.
Despite your dreamy thoughts and all their charming glamour,
the decadence we've come to will still blast you like a hammer.

[REPEAT HOOK(1)]

2. The things that form the infrastructure, aren't what they once were;
no one gets it right deciphering even what they infer.
The colors all run together yet there is no black & white, even light has turned to blight and cannot pierce the night.

HOOK(2): It's part of our disposable, disposable world —
It's part of our disposable world.

3. Institutions that for centuries formed the foundations;
turned inside-out, backwards and upside-down in three generations.
We've drifted, been sifted incrementally into a blind alley,
at the bottom of the valley of lowest morality.

HOOK(3): The inevitable destination of a disposable world —
Both cause and result of our disposable world.

[INSTRUMENTAL]

[REPEAT HOOK(1)]

4. It does not matter what you think, or scheme or prophesy;
reality with all its might and fury cuts through every lie.
As harmony in everything you see is reduced to clamor,
the decadence we've come to will still blast you like a hammer.

HOOK(4): Because we live and die in a disposa- disposable world —
Because we live and die in a disposable world . . .
As we become disposable in a disposable world . . .
We have become disposable in a disposable world . . .
We've all become disposable in a disposable world.

[END]

Written: August 31, 2015 [G, P, M]