

DOESN'T DO A THING FOR WHAT I FEEL

1-24-16
(#8)

1. All is not fair in love and war,
just ask anyone who's been there before;
And the pain they all claim time will heal —
But that doesn't do a thing for what I feel.

REFRAIN: Love is on the way —
don't push that button, don't dial.
Healing's enroute but won't come for a while.
Oh, 911, my vital signs are off the chart,
when she fell, out of love, it broke my heart.

2. In a war that wore a love disguise,
weaved of wool pulled over my eyes.
They all say one day time will heal —
But that doesn't do a thing for what I feel.

[REPEAT REFRAIN]
[INSTRUMENTAL]

3. All's not fair in love and war,
just ask anyone who's kept the score.
And don't tell me merely that time will heal —
Cause it doesn't do a thing for what I feel.

[REPEAT REFRAIN]

4. I'd have thought that the rules of engagement applied;
I'd have thought the territory of my heart was occupied.
But it turned out none of that was real —
to you it wasn't ever part of the deal . . .

So even if I can believe that time may heal
it doesn't do a thing for what I feel . . .
It just doesn't do a thing for what I feel . . .

[END]

Written: January 23-24, 2016 [L, G, M]