

(FOR) A WORLD OF PEACE

12-15-13

1. Before they destroy all the fountains.
As the militant madness warnings increase
"Save the world by obliterating all of it" (Everything there is)
— In their minds of madness, that's the sane way
to a world of peace...
Why should we stop war? — Why? — What for?:
For a world of peace.

2. Now, you don't stop eating by eating.
And you don't stop cheating by cheating.
So in case you failed to see, something this elementary stopping war by starting war is pure insanity...
Only peace will bring us
to a world of peace

3. War is addictive just like other drugs
— Turns normal men into homicidal, blood-lusting thugs.
The bane of this addiction, is like no other affliction
Through the eyes of this crazed vision they can't turn off the ignition... ever self-igniting their increase,
robs us of our world of peace.

4. Rebellious children at the age of slobbering;
that stage where they played cops and robbing;
there they warped and froze emotionally ever needing to invent and destroy an enemy...
The dilemma of the ages, to stop their mad rampages:
Can we make them cease
without us violating the way of peace?

[INSTRUMENTAL] *

(Continued)

(FOR) A WORLD OF PEACE
(Continued)

(12-15-13)

5. One thing we can be sure of,
as strong as hate as pure as love.
If their rage-rampage isn't broken
it's sure without exaggeration, ther'll come one last conflagration
— an unavoidable consequence of their arrogance and violation:
They will bring a world of peace
by the world's annihilation.*

TAGS: Their madness will cease
not merely decrease, but ther'll be no one to have a world of peace...

Till no one will have a world of peace...

No one left on earth
to live a world of peace

[END]

Written: December 14-15, 2013

* Sounds of war, horrific explosions, sirens, artillery fire — silenced by big, last bomb sound at second asterisk.