

I SEE YOU AGAIN

10-27-16
(#71)

1. Sifting back through the hour glass's sands of time, summers, winters blurred into way back when.
We had so much more than what survived our war —
Everywhere I look I see you again.
2. Looking `cross the battlefields of clashes turned to ashes.
Hardened like young rebels of Afghanistan.
Wounds long gone and healed but their memories won't yield —
Everywhere I look I see you again.
3. Rain has washed away all the fallout of yesterday,
and time's served the atonement for the sin.
Still looking for a safety net, in vain I haven't found one yet —
And everywhere I look I see you again.

[INSTRUMENTAL]

4. Wallpaper flowers, weeks and months squeeze from the hours;
no congregations shouting out "amen !"
Still gathering up the tangled parts of two ambushes and scattered hearts —
And everywhere I look I see you again.

[TURNAROUND AND MODULATE UP]

5. Time heals and for a time seals but it's weathered paint that peals,
as oceans dissolve heart-tears shed by broken men.
From fore and aft of eternity your soul has been a part of me —
Will it be that there I'll see you again ?

Everywhere I look I see you again . . .

Everywhere I look I see you again . . .

[KEEP REPEATING INTO FADEOUT]

[END]

Written: October 27, 2016 [L, G, M]