

IF I COULD FLY (TO THE MILKY WAY)

3-11-15 (1)
(#14)

1. If I could fly to the Milky Way
and return without losing a day.
If I could soar past the moon for you,
for you there's nothing that I wouldn't do.

2. If I could die and return again
the only question I'd ask is, "When?"
How soon? Just when would you want me to take that fling, and do anything, for you?

3. If I could give the world to you with rainbows and flowers and your fave personals too I'd tie a ribbon with a red bow round its girth and give you the all-time biggest present on earth.

4. If I could but divide and multiply
I'd take for myself an exponential sigh —
your pleasure-sounds when you're maxed-out satisfied and I'd give them back to you warm and well-multiplied.

5. If I could have you till time becomes eternity
I'd give you everything but save all of you for me.
Till time ran out I would devour all of you eat all my cake if I could still have it too.

6. If I could sing you the ultimate song,
it's one that would last everlastingly long.
If I could do anything my heart longed for I'd do for you everything you want, and then some more . . .
. . . and more . . .
. . . all for you ***

7. [REPEAT VERSE 1, FADEOUT IN MIDST,
AS IT'S OVERTAKEN BY INSTRUMENTAL – TO FADEOUT]

[END]

Written: March 11, 2015 (1) [L, G, M]

*Ritardando – spoken