

SHE AIN'T HEAVY, SHE'S MY SISTER

11-9-13

SPOKEN: Continuing down that road...

1. The road goes on.
With things we can't take along,
what we leave behind, we won't find, further on there.
But I care, enough to carry a struggling sister, too...
She ain't heavy, no, she's my sister.
2. So, on we go.
Her well being is my concern,
through every twist and turn, as we churn, in experience.
As we go, I know she'll never burden me...
She ain't heavy, she's my sister.

BRIDGE: If I'm burdened at all
it's a burden, mixed with gladness that I've found the key to happiness hidden in selfless service —
of love --- for one another.

3. It's a one way road!
On which we choose the way we turn;
no refund, no return, as we learn, to love and share.
No, the load, doesn't weigh me down, at all.
She ain't heavy, she's my sister...
She ain't heavy, she's my sister...
